

Morristown Unitarian Fellowship

The Right Relations Promise

1. I will listen attentively, acknowledge others' views and try to imagine holding their opinions.
2. I will refrain from judging other people's motives and opinions.
3. I will seek accurate information, be willing to test my assumptions, and examine my own motives.
4. I will communicate openly, directly, and honestly. I will go directly to a person with whom I disagree and share differences respectfully. If needed, I will use a third party to mediate.
5. I will balance being open to new ideas and respecting our traditions.
6. I will be patient with myself, others, and the process of change.
7. I will allow space for feelings and emotions - mine and others'.
8. I will let go of the trivial, and be willing to give and take.
9. I will remind myself that we are all working for the shared goal of supporting our religious community.